

A Guide on Hemorrhoids and Homeopathy

Hemorrhoids or sometimes called piles refer to a condition where the particular veins around the lower rectum and anus are usually swollen and swollen. It can happen to anyone - men or women and old or young. Hemorrhoids occur because there is a strain in the bowel movement. Others suffer from hemorrhoids because of aging, pregnancy, chronic diarrhea as well as chronic constipation. This can be seen either internal (inside the anus) or external (below the skin surrounding the anus). There are a few people who have hemorrhoids but they do not experience any symptoms. Vibrant red blood that covers the particular stool is one of the common internal signs of hemorrhoids. Take note, internal hemorrhoids may protrude with the anus which can be painful and irritating.
